Category: audio, sound effects

Freesound is an online library of audio and sound effects recorded by amateurs. You can find all kinds of audio you need, such as music recordings, sound effects, atmospheric recordings... You need to create an account in order to download the files for free.

Its plus point: you have access to a wide range of sounds and music for free.

Its minus point: the quality of the recordings is highly variable and depends on the person who created it.
