Category: video library

Cute Stock Footage is a library that gathers various kinds of video downloadable for free. You can find videos related to different themes (nature, abstract ones, backgrounds...). You can also use green screens mockup videos if you feel a bit adventurous and that you want to include your own elements. The website also offers a large variety of images, sounds, icons and mockups that you can reuse to enhance your homework adventures. All the resources are free and under Copyright license, but you can still insert them in all your projects. For higher and brighter quality resources, you can buy their stock materials at Pond5.com.
